Eastland, chairman, presiding. Also present: Richard L. Schultz, chief counsel; Alfonso L. Tarabochia, chief investigator; Robert J. Short, senior investigator; and David Martin, senior analyst. The Chairman. The subcommittee will come to order. In the discharge of our mandated responsibilities, the Internal Security Subcommittee has, over the years, responded to the expression of congressional and public interest in the activities of emerging revolutionary organizations. A review of our publications will disclose that the Internal Security Subcommittee has conducted continuing study relevant to the activities of both those organizations dominated and controlled by the Soviet Union, as well as those apart from such dominance. In the absence of a duly constituted agency or commission of the Government, the Internal Security Subcommittee has, and will continue to develop a body of evidence concerning revolutionary organizations which cannot be made available to the Congress or to the public through such customary means as a criminal investigation by the FBI. There is no other legally constituted body available to do the job. The Senate Internal Security Subcommittee is well aware that there are individuals and groups who view our Bicentennial celebration as a historic opportunity to test the strength of our fiber by engaging in acts of terrorism or through actions designed solely for...
